

SUSPECT IS SURROUNDED

Gray Said to Be in Woods Near Carmel--Search to Be Resumed This Morning.

BANGOR, Me., July 27.—Hunted like a wild animal, J. Sherman Gray, the fugitive farmer, was surrounded by a posse of men this morning. The search for the murderer of little Naomi Mitchell, the 14 year old farmer's daughter on Wednesday night was still at large at nightfall and it is believed somewhere in the woods not far from the scene of the crime.

Scores of farmers have quit their fields and armed with rifles and shotguns are hunting everywhere for the fugitive, who has not a friend in the world. Every hand is turned against him.

Even his own mother is anxious that he be captured and says that her roof will never shelter him again.

The country about North Carmel is sparsely settled with scattered farms, pastures, wood lots and swamps, intersected with cross roads. The man wanted is familiar with the ground often spending days wandering about, and no doubt knows as many hiding places as the foxes that raid the farm yards.

The day has been rife with fruitless rumors. Sheriff White and his deputies in automobiles have raced from place to place to investigate about strange men being seen, but without results.

Late this afternoon a promising clew developed when Edgar Robinson said that he saw a man come out of the woods on the South Newbury road, about three miles from Carmel village, who answered perfectly to the description of Gray. Several men were hurried to that point but could not find any trace of the man. The shutting down of darkness, with rain ended the hunt for tonight.

The woods in this vicinity are surrounded by the police and farmers, many of them armed with rifles, and it was arranged to keep guard until daylight. Then the search will be taken up fresh.

Sheriff arranged this afternoon for the pack of bloodhounds from the state prison and they are expected to arrive tomorrow and they will be put on the trail and the search kept up.

Every farmer in this part of the country is on the alert, and the farmers' dogs are let loose for it is believed that the fugitive will be eventually starved out and may raid a farmhouse for something to eat. Many strange stories are told today of Gray's mutilating and mistreating farm animals, although, as far as known, he never attacked any person.

Official statement was made today by Dr. R. T. Nealey, of Bangor medical examiner for Piscataquis County, who performed the autopsy on the Mitchell girl that she was not criminally assaulted.

Carmel physicians after hasty examinations of the body, from which most of the clothing had been torn, have said that an assault had been committed. Medical examiner Nealey said that he had made a careful

NEW LOCATION FOR HOVEY MEMORIAL

Fountain Will Be Placed on Grass Plot on State Street.

The treasury department has granted permission for the changing of the location of the memorial fountain in honor of Ensign Charles Emerson Hovey, U. S. N., who was killed in the Philippines while putting down a Moro uprising.

The new location of the fountain will be on the grass plot on the south side of the federal building, corner of Pleasant and State streets. Under the direction of Mrs. Henry Emerson Hovey, mother of the ensign, the fountain was placed on the curbing in front of the building. Because of its close proximity to the street it was feared that the fountain would be damaged by horses, wagons or automobiles. Mayor Badger, upon request of Mrs. Hovey, petitioned the department for permission to change the location. The department informed Sherman T. Newton, collector of the port, that the fountain might be located on any spot chosen by Mrs. Hovey. In its new location the fountain will be in sight of the Hovey home on State street.

examination of the body and was able to make his statement positively. While the search for the murderer is going on tomorrow morning, the body of the little girl will be buried from the home of her parents. The funeral probably will be the simple one characteristic of the countryside.

DEMOCRATS GETTING BUSY

The Democratic city committee held its first meeting of the year on Friday evening. A large number of the committee were present and future work was talked on and mapped out.

The Portsmouth Yacht Club picnic at Isles of Shoals, postponed from last Saturday, will be held tomorrow. Boats leave the club floats at 10 a. m.

TO SETTLE CAR STRIKE

Expected Negotiations Will Be Ratified Before Monday.

The officials of the Boston Elevated Railway and the striking employees' committee have reached a common basis of settlement of the car strike and the company officials will ask their directors at a meeting to be held next Monday to ratify their action, while the committee of the striking carmen will vote on the basis of settlement presented by their representatives at a mass meeting to be held Sunday.

Following these important meetings negotiations be resumed at the State House with the understanding that all points in the dispute be referred to the state board of conciliation and arbitration for final settlement.

This stage in the negotiations was only reached after a hard battle on the part of Mayor Fitzgerald and Governor, who were closely with the conflicting elements, and the willingness of the striking carmen to have the final settlement placed in the hands of the legally constituted state board met with the approval of all interested men seeking a peaceful settlement. The parties to the conference left the state house shortly after 1 o'clock of the strike.

The conference this morning lasted from 9:20 until 1 o'clock during which time the employers and employees' representatives were brought in touch through the efforts of the Governor and Mayor.

At the conclusion of the conference all appeared to be in high spirits and hopeful that a point in the negotiations had been reached when warranted a prediction of an amicable settlement. Shortly after 12 o'clock Snow of the road came out of the Governor's office and went into conference with the elevated officials to tell them some of the details connected with the striking carmen's proposition and

AN ITALIAN GANG ATTEMPT HOLD UP

Attack Engineers of the McElwain on Dover Tracks--Crew Come to Rescue--One Italian Badly Injured.

Chief Engineer Charles J. Roman and Second Engineer Chandler of the steamer W. H. McElwain, now discharging at the company's wharf on the upper river, were attacked by six Italians on the Dover track shortly after ten o'clock last night and they were more or less used up and the prompt arrival of some of the crew of the steamer saved them possible serious injury.

The two men were on their way back to the steamer when they were overtaken by six Italians walking up the track. Three were a little ahead of the other three and when Roman and Chandler overtook them, they closed in on them and Engineer Roman was hit over the head with a club. They yelled for help and some of the members of the crew of the McElwain who were on deck responded and they arrived just in time. They went after the Italians and in the mix up one man was knocked down and the others fled up the track.

The man knocked down remained there and an examination showed he was unconscious. When he did not come to in a short time the police were notified and Captain Burke sent Officer Deasley up in a carriage. He found the Italian lying beside the track, the crew having been unable to bring him around. He was lifted into the carriage and brought to the police station. Engineer Roman also came in to have a physician dress his wound. Engineer Roman had a bad scalp wound and it required several stitches.

APPEAL MADE TO CITIZENS FOR MORE FUNDS

Fourteen Hundred More
Needed for Railroad Purchase.

Mayor Daniel W. Badger, as treasurer of the Railways Materials Company, today issued a formal notice to the citizens of Portsmouth that the company needs $1400 of the $10,000 necessary to purchase that section of the defunct Railway Company between this city and Greenland. An appeal for funds is made. This latest appeal is directed not only at the philanthropic citizens of the city, but at the clubs and fraternities, particularly at the Warwick Club, Portsmouth Country Club and the Portsmouth Athletic Club. It is expected that these and other clubs of the city will each contribute $100 to the cause. The original committee of ten appointed by Mayor Badger meet again Monday night in the mayor's office at city hall to again consider the prospect of purchasing the railway.

The road was appraised at $3000 a mile. As the length is more than three miles between the Portsmouth Plains and Greenland Parades the price to be paid is $10,500. Citizens of Greenland donated $2500. Of the remaining $8000 about $6000 has been contributed by the people of this city. While the committee has offers from banks to finance the deal the members are desirous of purchasing the material outright.

RIVERSIDES AND ELKS TIE IN EXHIBITION GAME

Salvation Army Benefited By Ball Game--Greenland Defeated Rye Beach Team.

The Elks and the Riversides played an exhibition four inning game at the play grounds on Friday evening for the benefit of the Salvation Army, and there was a good crowd present and the Army secured a good sum.

The game was interesting ending in a tie score being called at the end of the fourth. The Riversides got to Leary in the first inning and with a combination of errors on his part worked in five runs and then Frank tightened up and they did not score again. The Elks with this lead went after Able in the second and secured three runs on three singles and an error and scored two more in the fourth with a base on balls and three hits.

The game in detail:

First Inning.
The Riversides were up and Grant singled, Caswell sacrificed and Leary fumbled the ball, Pruetz walked one for two bases scoring Grant and Caswell. Able was passed, Hutton singled and Pruetz scored. Paul singled and Able scored. Farnsworth hit to Leary who fumbled and Hutton counted. Lombardi struck out. Brown flied to Swasey and Grant fanned.

Bruce was out to Paul. Hanson singled and stole second. Swasey was thrown out by Hutton and Farnsworth walked but he was caught off the bag and retired the side.

Score--Riversides, 5; Elks, 0.

Second Inning.
Caswell fanned. Pruetz was safe on Farnsworth's error. Able was safe when Estabrook fumbled, but Hutton flied out to Mattison and Paul to Estabrook.

Bunker singled. Estabrook and Poole followed with singles. Bunker scored. Mattison singled scoring Estabrook. Leary hit to Hutton and he fumbled and Poole counted Bruce was out. Able to Paul and Hanson hit to Able and Mattison was run down between third and home. Swasey fanned.

Score--Riversides, 5; Elks, 1.

Third Inning.
Farnsworth struck out. Lombardi and Brown singled, but they did not score Grant flying out to Mattison and Caswell to Swasey.

Farnsworth hit a long drive to right that Lombardi made a sensational catch of. Bunker was out to Paul and Estabrook fanned.

Fourth Inning.
Pruetz and Able struck out and Hutton was thrown out by Estabrook.

The Elks tied the score. Poole walked. Mattison singled and Leary singled scoring Poole. Bruce fanned. Hanson hit for two bases and Mattison scored. Swasey was hit and walked and Farnsworth hit to Hutton who caught Leary at the plate. Bunker retired the side Able to Paul.

FOUR VIEWS OF HANS WAGNER OF PITTSBURG, WHO JOHNNY M'GRAW SAYS, IS GREATEST OF ALL PLAYERS.

PHOTOS BY AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION

New York, July 27--The recent statement made by Johnny McGraw, manager of the New York Giants, that Hans Wagner, the Pirates' great shortstop, is the most wonderful ball player that ever lived has met with the approval of the baseball experts in this city. While every one of them is willing to doff their caps to Ty Cobb, Detroit's great star as a marvel, still they believe Honus is of more value to his team than the redoubtable Georgian. Wagner, they say is a greater team worker than

ATHLETIC SPORTS AT PLAYGROUNDS

The field sports at the play grounds for boys on Friday afternoon were the most successful of the season with sixty-three entries in the different events and it required some good work to keep the events going with so many entries.

There were 37 entries in the ball throwing contest and the winning throw of 140 ft. 4 in. for a boy of ten years of age is fine going. The running broad jump was popular with 22 entries.

Young B. Gilmore, a lad of ten years, created a new record for pull up, with 14 times, this also goes for Class A, the older boys.

Another lad, who was a feature, was 9 year old Emil Rivers, who climbed the pole in eight seconds.

The boys of Class B are working up a great interest in base ball and Supervisor Howard has laid out a diamond for their exclusive use. These games are played in the forenoon and Capt. Haylett team defeated Capt. Nelson team, 27 to 10.

The Class A play ground team will play the Farragut Hotel Juniors on Monday afternoon.

The standing of the boys for the season in the different classes is given below.

The winners of the events on Friday were:

Class A.

Running High Jump--Won by John Berry, 4 ft. 5 in.; second, John Hassett, 4 ft. 3 in.; third, Harry Rammer, 4 ft. 2 in.

Running Broad Jump--Won by John Berry, 14 ft. 7 in.; second, Frank Snow, 14 ft. 6 in.; third, Jerome Connors, 3 ft. 10 in.

Base Running--Won by Harry Rammer, 17 2-5 sec.; second, Jerome Connors, 18 4-5 sec.; third, William Hornum, 19 2-5 sec.

Class B.

Pole Climb--Won by Emil Rivers, 8 sec.; second, E. Gilmore, 10 sec.; third, C. Plunkin, 10 1-5 sec.

1-10 Mile Run--Won by M. Ne-villes, 25 sec.; second, S. Spinney, 27 sec.; third, J. Hurley, 27 3-5 sec.

Pull Ups--Won by E. Gilmore, 34 times; second, J. Hurley, 7 times; third, Ed. Rivers, 6 times.

USES CADILLAC SYSTEM TO LIGHT COUNTRY HOME
Massachusetts Man Originates Unique Lighting Plan, Employing Car's Storage Batteries.

Owners of country homes not provided with means of gas or electric lighting, if they are also owners of Cadillac cars, may take a tip from H. J. Murch, of Worcester, Mass. Mr. Murch has adopted, with much success, the unique plan of illuminating his country home by means of current drawn from the storage battery of his Cadillac.

With the approach of warm weather, Mr. Murch went to his cottage at Northboro, Mass. He wired the house for electric lights and led the feed wires to the garage. There, by the insertion of a plug, connection is established between the automobile battery and the house, and he has light.

During his day's driving the electric system, which furnishes power for starting, ignition and lighting, is busy storing electricity in the battery. At night the current thus generated is sufficient for running five 36 candle power electric lamps in the house.

When baby suffers with eczema or some itching skin trouble, use Doan's Ointment. A little of it goes a long way and it is safe for children. 50c. a box at all stores.

Mr. Vahey went into conference with the striking conference committee. About 10 minutes later Mayor Fitzgerald and Governor Foss were called by Mr. Snow to the Lieutenant Governor's office and were in consultation with Gen. Bancroft and the other Elevated directors. At 1 the Mayor said that no official statement would be given out until after 4. He also said that the main dispute or obstacle that they were trying to surmount were the manner in which the striking carmen should reenter the service. He said that the Elevated was perfectly willing that the old men should be restored at their former pay, but was not disposed to give the places now occupied by the loyal employees who had been advanced as a result of the strike to those who had gone out when the strike was declared.

The striking conference committee want the men restored to their old positions and ratings. The question of settling future disputes and the manner in which it shall be done is also engrossing the attention of the arbitrators. The union representatives are willing that each side should appoint a man and in case of failure to agree within 10 days, the Mayor shall constitute the third man of the board.

The Boston Elevated presents a proposition that each side appoint a man and they decide on a third. It has also been suggested that the state board of consultation and arbitration should decide all disputes. These propositions are being thoroughly discussed and the Mayor said he hoped an amicable settlement would be reached. The Elevated officials have asked for time to consult with their associates on the board of directors and with the committee of loyal employees relative to the settlement of the important questions.

BOSTON AFTER CORRIDON
Ward's Club Appears to Have Inside Track in Attempts to Land Crack Kansas City Shortstop.

MILWAUKEE, July 27—Billy Hamilton scout for the Boston National league club, was here today for a conference with manager Charlie Carr of the Kansas City club regarding the proposed purchase of shortstop Corridon.

Corridon has been playing a consistent game for the Kaws and several major league clubs have been after him. Manager Johnny Kling of the Boston club went to Kansas City recently to look him over. He was very much impressed with his work and sent Billy Hamilton to watch him still further.

No deal has been made yet, but the Boston club seems to have the inside track and may eventually land him. Manager Carr wants players as well as cash in exchange, and unless the Braves can turn over some likely material there, will be nothing doing.

TOURIST'S EXPERIENCE WITH CADILLAC IN EUROPE

W. B. Wellman, of San Francisco, now touring Europe in a 1912 Cadillac is having a delightful experience with his car. Mr. Wellman took delivery of his Cadillac at Boston for an extensive tour. Writing to the Cadillac Motor Car Company from Lucerne, Mr. Wellman says:

"I have run 1700 miles so far and have not had so much as a puncture. From Naples to Lucerne the road is bad and covered with sharp rocks.

The self-starting device never failed since we started on the tour and the electric light system throughout attracts a great deal of attention wherever we go."

HYDROPLANES FOR ALL BATTLESHIPS PLANNED

WASHINGTON, July 27—Each battleship of the navy will be equipped with a speedy hydroplane within the next year if latest plans of the Navy Department are carried out. Rear admiral Philip Andrews acting secretary, has called upon manufacturers to notify the department not later than August 15, whether they will submit hydroplanes to meet naval requirements. It is proposed to have the machines sustain a speed in the air of not less than 50 miles an hour carrying two passengers.

COLLISION IN NEW JERSEY

JERSEY CITY, N. J., July 26—An engineer and fireman were injured in a collision this morning between a fast train and an empty passenger train at Milldale. Four passenger cars were demolished and the tracks blocked for several hours. The trainmen were not seriously hurt.

STRIKEBREAKERS SETTLED IT

THOMSONVILLE Conn. July 26—By using strikebreakers brought over from New York the labor troubles over wages in the different houses of the Hartford Carpet company were ended today. When strikers saw strangers going to work they applied for their old positions and were taken in as fast as work was ready.

BUSINESS IS RUSHING AT THE WENTWORTH

Manager Harry Priest of the Wentworth is presiding over the most successful season that the big hotel has had for years. Our citizens generally are interested in the hotel's success and will be pleased to hear the good reports.

LET THE TRAVELLER TURN ON THE SEARCHLIGHT

The Boston Traveller and Herald devotes a half column reply to the Herald's editorial of Monday regarding Boston's attitude towards New England, etc. Here are a few of the Traveller's comments:

Mistaken Anger

"The Portsmouth Daily Herald is really vexed with Boston and Massachusetts, largely because the Legislature defeated the proposition for a tunnel between the North and South stations, electrification and other railroad improvements."

"A great deal that the Herald says in a general way is true. The Legislature of Massachusetts and Gov. Foss unquestionably are to blame for the failure of the plans for the bettering of the railroad service this year. The Governor, probably more than the Legislature, is to be held responsible for the fact that no legislation that would meet his approval has been attached to it."

"The Legislature was not convinced that the public demand for such a commission has reached such a stage as to be imperatively necessary. Neither party, however, was willing to approach the subject in a spirit of compromise, and as a result much benefit legislation failed."

"That the Chamber of Commerce is a party to a conspiracy to injure the rest of New England is absurd. The representatives of the great business houses of Boston, who make up the membership of the chamber have too much at stake in their New England trade to do anything else than work for its improvement. The tunnel is bound to come in time. It should have been started this year. The beginning of electrification of the railroads of the Greater Boston district is already at hand. The New Haven having voluntarily arranged plans for changing the motive power of its Providence division. When the tunnel is provided the electrification of the Boston & Maine and New Haven between Beverly and Readville will follow as a matter of course."

"The Herald must possess itself in patience. That is the attitude of Boston, which is more vitally affected than any other place at the present. It has great confidence that the voice of the people will be more potent before the next Legislature than petty jealous contention between it and the executive."

"It is about time the Traveller-Herald (the most independent of the Boston press) gave the Boston public the facts about conditions at the Capitol and the money kings that are standing in the way of progress. Our citizens recall the tour of the Chamber of Commerce and remember what big things were promised. What has New England gained? Not a single thing has been suggested for any section outside of Boston. Let's have a New England Chamber of Commerce worthy of the name—with live business men—not politicians at the head."

SOME SOUND ADVICE

The Hon. W. E. Chandler of Concord, father of the so-called Progressives in New Hampshire (the men who are seeking office) has given his children some sound advice in an open letter. Here is what he tells them:

"To Governor Bass and the Republican officials whom he has appointed, and to all Republicans who now in July think it will be their duty in November to vote for the Taft presidential ticket for the Taft presidential ticket."

"I am earnestly made by me to you to stay in the Republican party and not vote for the Republican primaries at all after November."

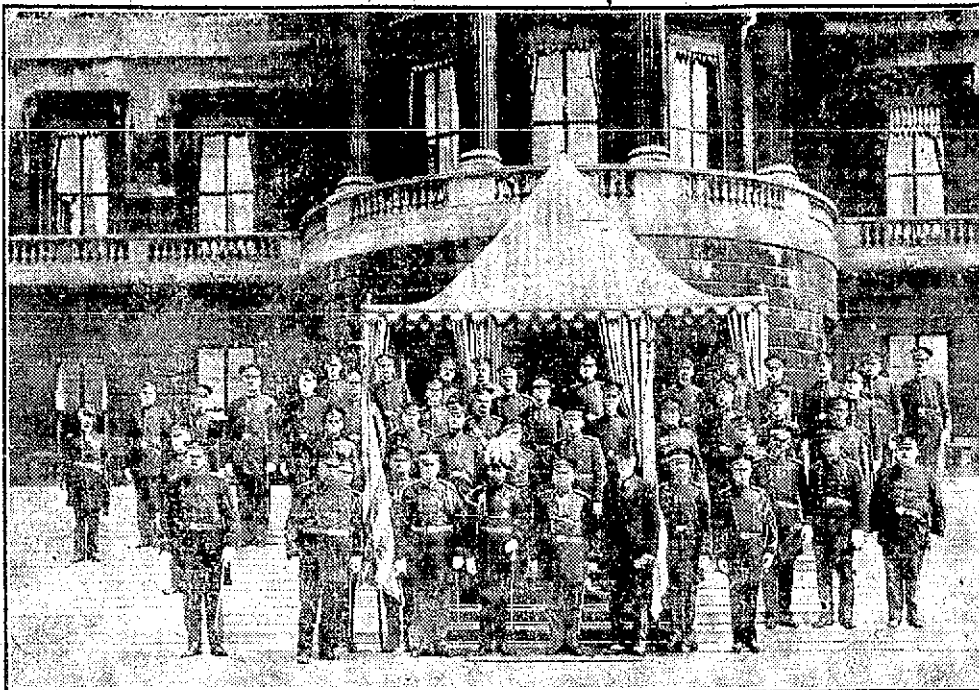

"I am earnestly made by me to you to stay in the Republican party and not vote for the Republican primaries at all after November."

"I am earnestly made by me to you to stay in the Republican party and not vote for the Republican primaries at all after November."

"I am earnestly made by me to you to stay in the Republican party and not vote for the Republican primaries at all after November."

King George Photographed With Boston "Ancients" and the Stars and Stripes.

KING GEORGE, WHITE-LAW REID.

Copyright, 1912, by American Press Association.

During the visit to London of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company of Boston King George was photographed with the artillerymen on the steps of Buckingham palace. The man not in uniform is Ambassador White-Law Reid. Between the king and Mr. Reid is Captain Appleton of the "Ancients." At the other side of the king is Adjutant Gody. At the left are the stars and stripes and at the right the regimental colors of the visitors. The dog of the king's own country is absent.

BIRD'S EYE VIEWS

If the boys were required to ring the church bells and build bonfires for an hour each July 4 morning, as a patriotic duty, how terribly abused they would feel.

William Jennings Bryan was in a position to get both glory and cash out of his campaign eloquence. He made his speech and then sold the copy to a syndicate.

Probably the boys would be willing to have their July 4 celebration outside of the limits of the town, if they could be assured that they were doing some damage thereby.

The agents who undertook to decide who were entitled to Carnegie hero medals has resigned his position. It might seem proper to bestow a medal on him for maintaining himself so long in a difficult, not to say perilous situation.

As the exponent of ideals rather than a master of tactics Col. Roosevelt may find himself tempted to repeat the sentence attributed to Mr. Taft, "I am no politician."

Gov. Colquitt of Texas is a strong advocate of a better standard of marksmanship among the Mexicans, such as will prevent stray bullets from crossing the line.

Organizing new parties would be easier if there were not so many men who would rather go fishing than attend summer conventions.

The old question, "Is life worth living?" appears to be answered in the negative by the people who have come under the strange fascination of the airship.

Prof. Wilson is in a position to get some interesting inside material for a new book about the American people.

Trades in the Navy

If the days of old seamanship are largely passing away, the new conditions are certainly not lacking in interest, says the Boston Globe.

The pay in the navy, on the average, is probably higher than formerly, but the qualifications necessary for service on warships are vastly different from what they were a quarter of a century ago. The modern man-of-war is a complicated machine and requires skilled men to run it. But few are aware that more than 50 distinct trades are represented in the crew of an up-to-date battleship. As many of these trades are taught in the navy, a young man soon becomes proficient in one and perhaps several of them.

Employment on a warship, therefore, means much more than it did formerly. The young man who has become familiar with the workings of the machinery, where many electrical appliances are in use, can afterward qualify for a profitable occupation on shore.

INSPECTING PROPERTY

Professor O'Kane, state etymologist, was here on Friday and in company with President Towle of the Country club visited the woodland property of the club, which was found to be heavily infested with gophers.

NO CAUSE FOR ALARM

The gambut Eagle made stops at Hampton Roads and New York before coming to this port from Cuba, and it would seem needless for a member of the board of health to have any alarm on her arrival here.

CRAZY WITH THE HEAT

The hours I've spent in fretting in waiting and regretting
The rays of heat
That scorch the street
Have only set me sweating.

And as I sit here thinking
Of glasses cool and chinking,
And sadly pine
For one large stein,
The sun is fiercely blinking.

A hundred terrors fill me—
Perhaps the heat will kill me!
And so I think
I'll take a drink
To see if it will kill me.

What Is Happening In the Harbor Town.

T. E. Hirst sustained serious injury to his right eye while at work in the navy yard on Wednesday.

Arrived—Schooner Fannie Palmer, Newport News, Va.; steam yacht MacLachlan, W. L. Douglass, owner, from Boston, cruising East; sloop yacht Lafollet, George Perran, owner, from New York.

Mrs. W. H. Cook and family of Philadelphia arrived on Friday to occupy the cottage belonging to Thurston Patch.

Services on Sunday, July 28, at the Free Baptist church. The theme will be suggested by the Pepperell memorial, "The Value of Ancient Landmarks, or Our Debt to the Strong Men of the Past." Sunday evening Bethel service at the church. Subject: "Our Anchors and Our Sails." A union service, to which all are invited.

Frederick Wardrobe has returned to his home in Somerville, Mass., after passing his vacation at L. E. Rice's farm. His daughter, Miss Edith Wardrobe, will return on Saturday.

Mrs. Arthur Jacobus, who has been for several days the guest of her brother, Assistant Postmaster Hiram Thomson, left on Saturday for North Bridgton, Me., where she will spend the month of August.

Miss Helen Hook left on Saturday for a sojourn in Harrington, Me.

It is welcome news that the old Bray house is at last to be repaired and preserved by the Pepperell Association. The venerable relic has changed ownership several times during the past few years, yet its condition has steadily grown worse. Pulled in good repair and filled with articles of historic interest such as abound in this locality, it should be the Mecca of many summer tourists.

The city of Brockton, Mass., is widely known as a great shoe center, but it remains for ex-Gov. W. L. Douglass to spread its fame as a seaport. His magnificent steam yacht is now in the lower harbor and bears upon her shapely stern the fatherly starting legend, "Machigonne, Brockton."

Horse in Warfare.

An army officer, writing of the importance of the horse in warfare, says that automobiles have not appreciably lessened the demand for horses or mules in the army. One of these animals, he says, is needed for every man in a properly equipped military force. Immense numbers of horses perish in every war through starvation, it being almost impossible to provide forage for them during the exigencies of a campaign.

Tennyson's Forty-Year Old Boots.

Tennyson possessed a pair of boots well worn as long lived as those of the old farmer described by Richard Jeffries. William Allingham notes in his diary on March 2, 1881, that "Browning dined at Tennyson's last night. Tennyson was in great form. He said: 'This pair of dress boots is 40 years old.' We looked at them, and I said it was good evidence of the immortality of the sole."—Lebanon Chronicle.

Bravery a State of Mind.

The Norsemen never feared death. They were as brave on land as on the sea. It was their belief that brave warriors at death would be taken to the land of Valhalla, where they might fight and hunt and feast for ages. They believed that every night wounds received during the day would heal, and they would be ready for fresh adventures in the morning.

The Influence of Clothes.

He—"Did you ever observe what a difference clothes make on one's mind? Now, when I am in my riding togs, I'm all horse; when I have on my business suit, my mind's full of business; when I get into my evening dress, my mind takes a purely social turn."—She—"And I suppose that when you take a bath your mind's an utter blank."—Stray Stories.

Value of a Laugh.

When you go to visit the sick do not forget that a good laugh is one of the best tonics and a bit of humorous gossip or pleasant saying is better than any drugs. Make the invalid smile if you cannot start up a laugh, but make your visit short; remember that too much of a good thing is as bad as too little.

Picking the Good Ones.

"You see a group of girl children, or schoolgirls, or university girls, or factory girls, or ballroom girls—you can pick out, as plainly as if they were branded, the ones whom men will want to marry and the ones whom no man will want to marry."—"A Touch of Fantasy," by A. H. Adams.

A Sure Test.

"Have you proposed yet to that North Side girl?" "I can't seem to get a chance." "Can't get a chance, eh? Better turn your attention elsewhere, then. If your girl wished it, you would get a chance all right enough."

Stool of Repentance.

For many years in front of the pulpit in Scottish churches persons under censure sat during the service. Afterward they stood to receive public rebuke. From this practice we derive the "stool of repentance."

Probably.

The Suffragist Lecturer—The north and south poles were discovered by men, but let me tell you, fellow club members, that the next pole to be found will be discovered by a woman.—Salute.

RAILROAD NOTES

The Boston & Maine private car 444, occupied by former assistant of the navy Saterlee and family of New York, passed through here on Friday. The public service commission has received from the Boston & Maine railroad a reply to its recent recommendation that individual drinking cups be installed on passenger cars operated in New Hampshire.

The reply states that on July 15th the trainmen were directed to allow drinking cups to remain in the receptacles of the cars passing from Massachusetts into New Hampshire.

Of 1100 cars in general service outside of Boston suburban traffic, 900 are already equipped with individual cups, and the remaining 200 will be equipped as rapidly as possible.

Frank J. Benis, station agent for the Boston & Maine at Madbury, and Mrs. Hannah L. Blackmer were recently married in that town.

The Boston & Maine railway private car 666, occupied by vice president Timothy Rymes, and party was attached to the Canadian Pacific express from the North Station on Friday, en route to Montpelier, Vt.

The work of putting in the roadbed for the Portsmouth Electric Railroad on Islington street, is again held up by the contractors who are unable to get the necessary crushed stone.

BASEBALL NOTES

Brickley, the fast York Beach second baseman, is a member of the famous Brickley family of Everett, H. S., Exeter and Harvard athletic games. One of his brothers was a member of this year's Olympic team.

Clem Gile, the Yale pitcher, is alternately with Jack Parker of Princeton, in doing the box work for the Rye Beach nine this summer, and the beach team is making a fine record. Gile is a tall, rangy fellow with lots of speed and sharp breaking curves. Parker covered center field for Princeton, but is showing considerable class as a box artist.

DOVER FACTORY MAY START UP AGAIN

There is some prospect of reopening the Luddy shoe factory at Dover, which recently closed its doors. Shoe manufacturers at Lynn, Ware, Mass., and other places are said to be interested in taking over the shop and continuing the work. One firm, it is said, would have a payroll of $3000 a week. Dover cannot afford to let these opportunities go by and the machinery of the Luddy shop will no doubt be moving again in a short time.

ROOSEVELT ATTACKS THE DEMOCRATIC NAVAL POLICY

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., July 26.—An attack on the Democratic majority in the House of Representatives for refusing to adopt the two battleship program was made today by Col. Roosevelt. He declared that the upbuilding of the Navy must go on in this country in order to maintain its position among the nations of the world.

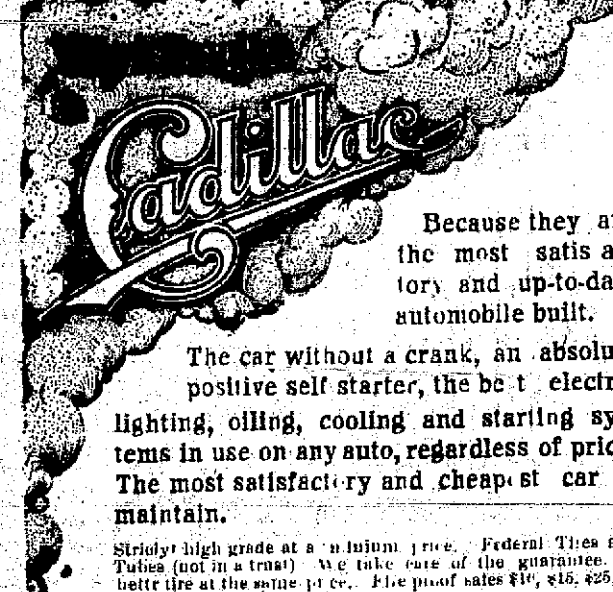

When the Democratic vote down the battleships, he said, "if they are logical they should also vote to abandon the Panama Canal. It is an understandable policy to abandon the canal, abandon building up the fleet and say that the Nation shall simply become the Chief of the Western Hemisphere. I do not believe in that policy, but at least it is understandable. But the one unpardonable thing is to incur responsibility and then decline to do the necessary means to enable us to meet that responsibility."

"It is an outrage, from the standpoint of the Nation's honor and interest, to go on with the Panama Canal at all while we both fortify it and keep up an adequate Navy."

"Furthermore, any talk as to what we intend to do about the Monroe Doctrine, the Panama Canal, the protection of Hawaii, or in any other matter, is not merely offensive, but contemptible. If we abandon building up the Navy and show that we have neither the power nor the will, if the need should ever come, to make out words good by deeds."

"Out in the cow country, in the oil days, it used to be proverbial that the man who was most apt to get into trouble was the man who was always ready to draw but not to shoot. The man who never got into trouble was the man who never blustered, the man who never boasted, who never was offensive, who never wronged or insulted any one, but who, as everybody well knew, was entirely competent to hold his own if attacked. I believe in the upbuilding of the United States Navy as an insurance for peace."

"The voyage of our battle fleet around the world was one of the greatest moves for peace that this country has ever made. I hope that our people will always act not only with scrupulous justice but with the utmost generosity toward all other Nations, weak and strong. I also amid amid scenes which threatened hope that this will make it evident."

TO STOP THE ADVANCE OF TRADE

NEW YORK, July 26.—John D. Rockefeller is making determined efforts to stop the advance of business into the private residence district where his city home is located. For a long time (this trade has been moving slowly up 54th street toward the Rockefeller home, but the Rockefeller agents have been watching the movement, and during the past few months have been securing every parcel that was offered for sale, at a price higher than the business buyer could pay.

Mr. Rockefeller's most recent purchase in this district, which was made this week, is of our four-story brown stone mansion, just west of his home. This is his fifth investment on the street, and it extends for a considerable distance the restricted area which he has put around the houses of himself and his son.

The Rockefeller plan is an expensive one, although his brokers have obtained one or two of the parcels at bargain prices. They are spending at the present rate about $200,000 a month to accomplish the oil man's purpose.

LOWELL WITHOUT WATER.

LOWELL, July 26.—Failure to look after an important gate in the water mains resulted in the entire water service of this city being suspended for six hours today. The whole city was unprotected in the event of fire. The old gate which failed to work is at the corner of Vernon and 6th streets and the failure resulted in the flooding of an excavation where a mammoth check valve is being connected with the city reservoirs. In order that the connection might be made it was necessary to stop pumping all water.

A large crew of men who were at work in the excavation only escaped drowning by speedy action. The water supply became normal during the forenoon.

OBSEQUIES.

John O. Lord.
The funeral of Mr. John O. Lord was held at two o'clock on Friday from his home in Greenland, Rev. L. L. Harris assisted by Dr. Robt. Officiating. Interment was in Greenland cemetery under the direction of H. W. Nickerson. The pallbearers were Edward Libby, Edward G. Clough, Charles Brackett and Fred T. Hughes.

Chester L. Conlon left yesterday for a two weeks' outing at Camp Belknap, Tuxtonboro, the Y. M. C. A. State camp for boys.

$3.50 Recipe Free For Weak Men.

Send Name and Address Today—You Can Have It Free and Be Strong and Vigorous.

I have in my possession a prescription for nervous debility, lack of vigor, weakened manhood, failing memory and lame back, brought on by excesses, unnatural drains or too many worn and nervous men right in their own homes—without any additional help or medicine—that I think every man who wishes to regain his manly power and virility, quickly and quietly should have a copy. So I have determined to send a copy of the prescription free of charge, in a plain, ordinary sealed envelope to any man who will write me for it.

This prescription comes from a physician who has made a special study of men and I am convinced it is the surest acting combination for the cure of deficient manhood and vigor failure ever put together.

I think I owe it to my fellow man to send them a copy in confidence so that any man anywhere who is weak and discouraged with repeated failures may stop dragging himself with harmful patent medicines, secure what I believe is the quickest-acting restorative, upbuilding, Spot-Touching remedy ever devised, and so cure himself at home quietly and quickly. Just drop me a line like this: Dr. A. E. Robinson, 4724 Luck Building, Detroit, Mich., and I will send you a copy of this splendid recipe free of charge. A great many doctors would charge $3.00 to $5.00 for merely writing out a prescription like this—but I send it entirely free.

FOND OF OUTDOOR SPORTS

Mrs. Ollie James, Wife of Kentucky Senator, is Popular in Washington Society.

There are four men in the lower house whom every visitor, be he from north, south, east or west, always asks the guides to point out, and they are "Uncle Joe" Cannon, the speaker, Champ Clark, Nicholas Longworth and Ollie James.

Whenever any of this illustrious quartet is missing from his accustomed place on the floor the guides look troubled and the visitor feels as though he had been cheated out of a spectacle for which he paid his sound cash.

Mrs. James is a frequent visitor to the house gallery, and she has some lively stories about the way the professional eulogists point out her husband.

"I used to feel aggrieved," she said, "when I would hear the inevitable platitude. 'See that great big man with a bald head; that's Ollie James from Kentucky.' He is the biggest man on the floor and I can tell you he does love a horse race."

"Now I look around and see how the stranger relates this explanation. One thing for which I rejoice, my husband's baldness is not the result of matrimony. It was just as apparent eight years ago when we were married, and I believe even prior to his soul-racking experience of falling in love."

"It is some years since Mr. James or I have indulged in our much loved exercise of horseback riding, though we both still think it is the finest and most exhilarating of sports and though we must plead guilty to the guide's description of loving a horse race, we are not always able to be present at these exciting incidents of our familiar Kentucky life.

Mrs. James came to Washington a bride shortly after Mr. James took his seat in congress. She is very popular as an entertainer.

"DUDS" IN NATIONAL MUSEUM

Kensington Palace Contains Variety of Togs, but Has Nothing on Uncle Sam.

Uncle Sam is getting along in every way. He has got to a point now where he is going to imitate Europe in the gathering of the costumes of noted people. In London, at Kensington Palace, one may see the togs in which the late Queen Victoria spent her childhood, those in which she was crowned, and also her marriage garments. In Paris, at the Cluny museum, may be seen the slipper, about four inches long, worn by the Princess Lamballe, and also those which covered the more generous extremities of the queen, Marie Antoinette. So in coming years at the National museum at Washington will be shown the duds worn by Mrs. Roosevelt, Mrs. Taft, Mrs. Grover Cleveland, and the first Mrs. James A. Garfield. It was currently reported at Washington during the Roosevelt administration that the "first lady in the land" boasted that her annual expenditures for clothes came within $300. It is respectfully suggested that Dr. Mary Walker donate to the society the unmentionables which cover her nether limbs.

History of Each School Child.
Every child in the elementary schools of the United States would be card-catalogued and a running history of his entire school career in the grades kept permanently on file under a plan formulated by investigators whose report has just been issued by the United States bureau of education. The plan has the approval of the National Education association, and some 300 cities already have begun to keep the cards. Eventually, it is anticipated, about 6,000,000 pupils will be thus tabulated.

From the new card catalogue system definite and scientific answers can be made to a large number of questions, the solution to which now must be guessed. The committee of investigators also has drawn up a uniform method of reporting fiscal statistics for the computation of costs.

Too Much.
"Who gets the custody of the automobile?"

"I told my wife she might have it. I can't keep up a machine and pay all money too."

RELICS OF WASHINGTON

PAY DIRECTOR DEPOSITS INTERESTING COLLECTION.

Articles Worn by the Revolutionary Commander, and Long in General's Family, Included in Group Given by Government.

Pay Director R. T. Mason Ball, United States navy, of Baltimore, has recently deposited in the United States National Museum a number of relics of the Washington and Ball families some of them dating as far back as the French and Indian wars, and all of considerable historical value.

These objects were formerly owned by Pay Director Ball's father, George Washington Ball, grandson of Frances Thornton Washington, daughter of Charles Washington, the younger brother of George, and have been retained in the possession of a direct descendant of Mary Ball, the mother of George Washington, up to the present time.

The relics include a pair of gold wire epaulettes, of antique design, worn by George Washington as colonel during the French and Indian war of 1754-63, notably throughout the Braddock campaign in 1755.

Others are a single epaulet worn during the War of the Revolution, and a white leather Masonic apron of that period, decorated with Masonic insignia in gold, both owned by Lieutenant Colonel Jethro Ball of the continental army, a third cousin of General Washington (nephew by marriage), and for a time volunteer aid on his staff.

In the collection is also a snuff box of highly polished hard wood, bearing the portrait of Lafayette, presented to him by American admirers on the occasion of his visit to the United States in 1824, and in turn presented by him to his grandson, Fayette Ball, father of George Washington Ball, on the occasion of Lafayette's visit at the Ball home in Loudoun county, Virginia.

One of the most interesting objects in the group is an antique mourning brooch of gold, worn by Mary Ball. This is one of the few authentic relics of Washington's mother extant, and is the property of Pay Director Ball and his four sisters, Mrs. Mary Randolph Ball, Mrs. W. F. Hill, Mrs. C. G. Lane and Mrs. J. S. Bowman.

CHAUFFEUR WAS JOY RIDING

Congressman Tayler Makes an Important Discovery While Waiting for a Street Car.

Representative Ned Tayler of Ohio, battle scarred and worn from the recent strife in the Buckeye state, found it necessary the other afternoon to make a hurried trip to the department of commerce and labor from his room in the house office building. His machine and chauffeur were not to be found, so he leaned languidly against the coping outside the capitol grounds and waited for a Pennsylvania avenue street car.

Just as the green carriage of the Hot poll rolled into view, he sighted his machine crossing the capitol plaza, a very summery summer girl proudly seated beside the chauffeur. The fair passenger was dropped at one corner, and waited while the chauffeur rolled around to his usual stand beside the office building.

"Say," exclaimed the M. C., "that's my machine, and that's my chauffeur. Find the man that's giving the party. He thinks he's going to report to me and then take his girl for another ride, but I'll fool him. Jake"—this to his secretary—"you run over and tell him to come over here. We'll go downtown in the machine after all. No wonder that man was fired from the police force."

Restless Senatorial Fans.

Restlessness was noticeable among the baseball fans in the senate and the house along about 3:30 p. m. Even turning the button and starting the electric fans was of no avail. Every five minutes during the progress of a debate or between roll calls certain solons could be seen quietly slipping out to get the latest information from the American League park in Philadelphia. Although this was at the crisis of the convention contests for choosing delegates to the National Republican convention, interest for the moment centered entirely upon the diamond at Philadelphia, and the animosities of debate were forgotten when two senators whispered with all the eager enthusiasm of boyhood days: "What's the score?"

The great national game will not yield interest even to the presidential election. Philosophers have often insisted that the annual recurring baseball conflagration is a safety valve for the explosive energies of the American people, who are otherwise too wrapped up in their business and pleasures. They follow the movements on the score card with the same nervous intensity, but then it is "play"—not work, and the view point makes so vast a difference.

DOGS GUARD SECRET

Precautions Are Taken to Preserve Recipe for New Rubber.

Safe Where Formula Is Kept Is Protected by Steam That Would Destroy the Bacteria—Would Lower Price of Product.

London.—Extraordinary precautions are being taken to prevent theft of the secret of the new process of manufacturing synthetic rubber, announcement of the discovery of which by Prof. Perkin was made recently. Four millionaires, including Stuart Coats, member of the famous family of thread makers, are financing the experiments, which already have cost $175,000.

The works are situated in a lonely peninsula river near Rainham, in Essex, and they are patrolled night and day by a heavily armed guard with four ferocious dogs.

The bacteria, which are key to the whole discovery, are kept in a safe which it would take an intruder twenty minutes to open even with the best engineering appliances, and so constructed that if forced open an influx of superheated steam would immediately destroy the bacteria.

An Anglo-French syndicate will form a company with a capital of $2,000,000 to purchase the patents, which forestalled by three months German scientists, who had been working on the same lines and had spent $1,250,000 in experimenting.

In order to insure the staff keeping the secret loyally the Anglo-French syndicate retained the services of the two principal chemists, Prof. Perkin of Manchester and Fernbach of Paris, for 19 years at a salary of $5,000 each yearly. Twelve other chemists have been given ten-year agreements with regularly increasing salaries. The chemists' office staff from office boy up, are each promised a handsome bonus when success is achieved.

The Germans, on learning that the Anglo-French syndicate had secured the priority patents, endeavored to persuade the syndicate to sell, but were unsuccessful. Overtures from big plantation rubber companies, directed by leading London merchants, were more favorably received, and it is likely that an agreement will be made to not sell rubber below 50 cents a pound, in which case only Brazilian Para rubber collectors will suffer.

INDIAN SONGS RECORDED

Norwegian Explorers Return From Northern Canada and Have Number of Phonographic Records.

Christiania.—The explorers, Christian Loden and Harold Thaulow have just returned here from an expedition to northern Canada, which was undertaken with the object of collecting phonographic records of folk songs of the various Indian tribes and comparing them with those obtained in earlier expeditions to the Eskimos, with the view of establishing how far was their common origin. The largest tribe visited was the Crees, who number over 20,000. Their chief, Montongik, was at first hostile, but after a few presents of tobacco and glass beads, and after having been told that explorers had been sent by the king of Norway to make his tribe famous, he became more amenable to the wishes of the explorers. They brought back with them a most interesting collection of films of Indian life and music. Loden will go in the fall to Greenland for further investigation in the spring of 1913, and a long final exploration of northwest Canada, which will extend for three years. He will visit tribes that have never been in contact with the whites.

SENATE AND HOUSE IN DEADLOCK OVER BATTLESHIPS

NEW YORK, July 26.—The New York American prints today the following special dispatch from Washington under date of July 25:

The Senate Committee on Naval Affairs declared today its unchanged opinion in favor of the two battleships program for the Navy. This direct repulse to the Democrats of the House of Representatives, who in last night's caucus voted against the bill for the customary increase of the Navy, was the most stirring feature of the legislative day.

The attitude developed by the House caucus is a mystery as well as a surprise. Representative Hobson, of Alabama, pointed out forcibly during the session that the Navy of the United States now ranks fifth among the powers of the world in building dreadnaughts, and if the House policy was carried out it would sink seventh. These figures came from the Navy Department.

Mr. Hobson presented them to the caucus, but apparently they caused no concern for the members present. He persisted in their apparent determination to continue a naval program, which has already placed England, Germany, France and Russia ahead of the United States. If the plan of the House Democrats should be carried out, Japan and Italy would also soon overtake the United States in power of capital ships.

IN BRIEF.

New Bedford, Mass., July 26.—The efforts of the state board of arbitration representative, Frank M. Bump, to locate members of the executive board of the weavers' union, to see if he can get an outline of a plan of compromise, have not been very successful.

San Francisco, July 26.—Army officials here said last night the report from Concord, to the effect that the body of Lieut. B. West had been brought from Alaska, was incorrect.

Melbourne, Australia, July 26.—Ex-Governor Richards of Wyoming died suddenly here today from heart failure.

Tokio, Japan, July 26.—The condition of Mutsuhito, emperor of Japan, is today regarded by those in immediate attendance as extremely grave.

London, July 26.—The British government was nearly turned out of office by a snap division in the House of Commons, the small margin of only three votes saving it from defeat.

New York, July 26.—At the opening of today's session of the board of arbitration it was announced that the railroad would soon complete their testimony in opposition to the demands of the locomotive engineers for increased pay.

INTO THE ROUGH.

An automobile bearing a Massachusetts number attempted to cross Lexington street where it is closed, and got down in a ditch and for a time blocked the trucks of the electric road.

It required a team of horses to pull the automobile back on the road.

PLANE TO HUNT COYOTES

Aviator Easily Detects Animals Sought by Members of California Rifle Club.

Santa Clara, Cal.—Swooping over the foothills recently, Glenn Martin's biplane scared all the coyotes in sight and hearing. The occasion was the coyote hunt of the Santa Ana Rifle club, of which Martin is a member, and the result of the hunt was the capture of one coyote, a big fellow. The carcass was strapped to the aeroplane and was taken as passenger to Santa Ana.

The hunters had hoped to bring in half a dozen of the pests, but were unable to begin their hunt until after seven o'clock. It had been planned to begin at 4:30 o'clock, in order to catch the sneaking animals before they got back into the brushy hills. By an oversight the gate of the pasture in which the foothills are located was left locked, and it was seven o'clock before the hunters could proceed. The hunters covered ground from the old San Joaquin ranch house to the hills directly back of Corona Del Mar.

Martin waited until after the fog raised before venturing to fly. He did not like the idea of going through the fog sixty miles an hour with the possibility that he would suddenly find a high hill in front of him, too late to rise over it. After the fog lifted Martin, with a passenger, scouted along the range of foothills, using the biplane in which he made his trip from Newport bay to Avalon. The aircraft was driven low, and it was with ease that moving objects in the brush could be detected. Martin is thoroughly satisfied with the efficiency of the aeroplane as a means of scouting for wild animals. He thinks it has great possibilities as a means of driving game into the open.

To William Jeffrey, from whose ranch the start was made, belongs the honor of the hunt.

NEW AUTO TAX SWINDLE

Dodge of Using Dealer's Tag Comes High When Discovers by Pennsylvania Officials.

Harrisburg.—State highway department officials have discovered that the state is being swindled by unscrupulous dealers in and owners of automobiles throughout the state by misuse of demonstration tags, and they have at once commenced prosecutions to check it.

An automobile dealer, in taking out a license as a dealer, gets a tag with an X, which entitles him to use the machine in showing off its merits to intending purchasers and for no other purpose, and one tag will do for his entire stock in trade, but he must not use that tag on a vehicle that he uses for pleasure or hires to others for pleasure. It seems, however, that dealers have been doing that. A dealer's license costs but $5, while a tag for a pleasure machine or for hiring purposes costs from $10 to $15. In order to evade paying the higher license a number of people owning automobiles, who are not dealers, and also a number of dealers, have been getting the lower priced tags and using what purports to be a machine for sale, for hiring and pleasure purposes.

The department has been quietly picking up offenders and asking them to step up to the magistrate's office and pay the fine for violation of the law, $25, and at the same time take out the proper tag. About 200 of these offenders have been discovered in Pittsburgh, and in Harrisburg in the past few days eight of the dodgers have been notified of their prosecutions.

MEN PAINT DOGS; ARE SUED

Nine Playful Missourians Called to Account for Mistrating Hounds by Minister.

Jamesport, Mo.—Rev. W. E. Brown, pastor of the Methodist church here, has brought suit for $20,000 against five young men and four young women, charging that they captured his two blooded Missouri fox hounds and painted them, one with stripes and the other spots. He declares the hounds ran to him and smeared his trousers with paint. He also alleges they suffered from lead poisoning.

The hounds are said to have been treated to the coating of paint at a party given by Miss Blanch Thompson, daughter of a Jamesport banker, in honor of her approaching wedding to Frank Smith.

ASKS CASH FOR CITY STORE

Spokane Man Wants Food and Clothing Furnished to the People at Cost.

Spokane, Wash.—Commissioner of Public Works C. D. Coates announced that he would ask the city commission to appropriate from $100,000 to $200,000 to establish a municipal store for the purpose of furnishing food and clothing to the people at cost prices in an attempt to lower the cost of living. Commissioner Coates, while elected on a non-partisan ticket, has been prominent in the affairs of the Socialist party in this state.

Berry Measured Four Inches.

Marysville, Cal.—A strawberry measuring four inches in circumference was displayed by T. Spafford, who has a half-acre patch planted to vines eight miles north of this city. Spafford has installed a private irrigation plant on his place.

Will Not Break Up Crew for Some Time

Though the North Carolina is in reserve the crew of that vessel will not be detached for some time. None of the men will be transferred until the Arkansas or Wyoming are ready for commission. Which ever vessel is ready first will get the most of the Washington's crew.

Yard Officers Win Again

A combination of officers from the several ships at the yard went after the baseball nine made up of yard officers on Friday afternoon and went down in defeat, 9 to 8. Stick work by the yard men was strong and Constructor Hammer, catcher for the yard men, featured in his work behind the bat, as well as the clout exhibition he gave. On the whole Capt. Blissett's men are starting some of late.

Sunday at the Mountains

Capt. John C. Leonard, captain of the yard, will pass Sunday at the White Mountains.

Boston Congressmen Busy

Representative Curley of Boston is so busy engaged today circulating a petition favorable to two battleships and is co-operating vigorously with Representative Sulzer of New York.

The Boston member now takes the view that it may not be necessary to have another Democratic caucus of the house but that with enough names on his petition Democrats may go ahead and vote for two battleships, caucus or no caucus.

A number of names have been obtained but it is as yet to be shown that the plan will succeed. Considerable feeling has been aroused inside the Democratic lines over this insurGENCY.

Members from districts close to ship building yards are most active in defying the caucus decision.

Must Have Money for August

Convinced that in one week remaining of July it will be impossible to secure passage by both houses of Congress of the bills which appropriate money for the executive departments, house leaders on July 25 planned another "continuing appropriations" bill. On July 1 Congress had appropriated no money for the fiscal year beginning on that date and and to make temporary provision for the government departments a resolution was rushed through permitting department chiefs to expend a sum equal to one twelfth of their last year's appropriation in the month. Within the next few days it is expected that a similar measure will be rushed through covering August.—Army and Navy Journal.

The Herald Hears

That the Islington street job should be more than half done by this time if the city department were on their job.

That somebody should call a halt on the unnecessary whistling of locomotives in the railroad yard at night.

That the memorial drinking fountain is still in the same place.

That the man on Christian Shore who caught a burglar in his house at midnight and cooked a meal for the unexpected guest was certainly entertaining some.

That midnight crooks don't get this kind of a reception everywhere.

That the executive committee of the state firemen's association meet in Concord tomorrow.

That players of the Sunset league will be found everywhere on Saturday with picked teams.

That Dover people want the street lights burned all night because of the many burglaries now occurring there.

That there is not much speed to the eternal firemen of late.

That it cannot be possible that Captain Muchmore has retired from the ranks of the red shirts which makes this inactive spirit.

That a Lowell letter carrier was fined $50 for stealing a kiss from a married woman on his route.

That this osculatory on the part of the mail man was a costly one.

That he says he did not smack the woman's lips and has appealed the case.

That a step ladder will be needed to reach the sidewalk at the foot of Summer street when the Islington street improvements are completed.

That a Judge in the municipal court at Montclair, N. J., fined David Harris $10 for breeding mosquitoes on his land.

That the evidence against him was roofed by the board of health who bottled up mosquito larvae from his land.

That a well known former voter of ward three, who has for three years resided in ward two, still receives a notice that he is a member of the ward committee of the third district.

That Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, the suffragette leader in New York believes that a rough house is all right.

That the English suffragettes did the right thing when they did the window smashing act at London and Belfast.

That the term of office of fish and game commissioner does not expire until October, but Nat Wentworth the present commissioner has a big petition to the Governor and council for another term.

That auto parties like Portsmouth all right until they run into the several toll bridges.

That Congressman Currier has filed his candidacy for another term at Washington.

PERSONALS.

Mrs. Jane Avery and Mrs. M. E. Darling of Boston, who have been the guests of Mrs. William J. Ankelle of Bennett street, have returned home.

AT MUSIC HALL

The Pathé Weekly, which is included in the excellent program to be presented at Music Hall the first two days of next week, will include many of the nomination of Gov. Wilson for President by the Democratic party, a thirteen innings game of baseball between the Giants and the Boston Braves, the Ancient and Honorable Artillery of Boston leaving for England and other interesting topics of the day.

Mr. G. M. Anderson, better known as "Broncho Billy," will be seen in a stirring Western drama.

New vaudeville acts and illustrated songs will complete the program.

LOWELL WOMEN VISIT THIS CITY ON ANNIVERSARY

Entertained by Miss Randall and Visit Places of Interest.

Tuesday was the 29th anniversary of the institution of B. F. Butler Woman's Relief Corps, No. 72 of Lowell, Mass., and in observance of the event some of the members of the corps came to this city by trolley, the trip consuming five hours time. While here they were the guests of Mrs. Donald Randall, who was a former member of Butler Corps. After an appetizing dinner, some of the visitors passed the remainder of the day in viewing the old landmarks of which our citizens are so justly proud, including the Thomas Bailey Aldrich Memorial and St. John's church.

Others of the party visited the navy yard and were shown over the battleships Washington and North Carolina.

The most of the party returned to Lowell by trolley, a few members returning by the steam road.

All were very enthusiastic over the day's outing, deeming it one of the most pleasant and instructive trips yet taken by the Corps members. It is the custom of the members to visit a different city ever summer, Portsmouth being the longest point of interest yet visited. The party was made up as follows:

Mrs. Lydia C. Bartlett, Miss Cora M. Bartlett, Mrs. Elizabeth B. Oher, Miss Bertha Ober, Mrs. Katherine Golt, Miss Mary I. Smith, Mrs. Clara Staples, Mrs. Lizzie W. Worthen, a native of Portsmouth, Lowell, Mass.; Mrs. F. P. Young of Storrs, W. R. C.; Mrs. J. N. Culver, Richmond, Vermont.

OBSEQUES

Mrs. Annie L. Hurley

The last sad rites over the remains of the late Mrs. Annie L. Hurley were held at the Church of the Immaculate Conception at 8 o'clock this morning.

Where there was a large gathering of friends and acquaintances who came to pay the last tribute of respect which the living can render the dead.

Rev. Father Edward J. Walsh, P. R., offered high mass of requiem for the repose of the soul of the deceased woman, who was so loved in life. The musical portion of the service was rendered by the senior choir with solos by Miss O'Leary, Miss Lyons and Mr. Kane.

The interment was in Calvary cemetery by Funeral Director W. P. Attebery. The following were the pallbearers: Robert Anderson, Thomas Carney, Edward Broderick, William McEvoy, John Crowley and Charles Crowley.

Premier Scenic Programme

The features for Friday and Saturday include the following:

"The Black Sheep," Vitaphone. Do unto others and you will never regret it. Honor thyself and dare to do right and you will honor others. A test of filial love and its happy consequences.

"Together." This is a drama of unusual interest beautifully portrayed by the Lubin company.

Song, "That's How I Need You," Miss Margaret Pearson.

"The Artist's Joke, Edison." This is a clever comedy introducing Harry Furness, the famous caricaturist, in the role of father and practical joker. The result brings about a romance between his son and a young girl artist.

"The Wooing of White Fawn," Pathé. An Indian story of great strength and character.

Song, "Silver Water," Stern.

Miss Margaret Pearson.

"Revenge is Sweet," Edison. A mischievous office boy's many pranks tormented and worried the office girls. In a rapid succession of funny incidents the girls gave the boy a taste of his own medicine and it proved a remedy.

"A Western Courtship," Lubin. A western drama abounding in thrilling situations. A real feature. Matinee 2.30, evening 7. Saturday evening 6.30. Dancing as usual.
